3. Using Modals of Advice, Necessity, and Prohibition

Should and must are modal verbs. You can use modals to express advice, necessity, and prohibition. Modal verbs come before the base form of the verb.

You should eat more vegetables.

You must arrive by eight o'clock.

Advice

In a process paragraph, use the modal should to offer advice, tips, and suggestions for being more successful.

You should remove all jewelry before working with clay.

Necessity

Use the modal must to explain rules and laws that affect a process or to explain something that is absolutely necessary.

You must wear protective headgear when you compete.

Use do not have to to say that something is not necessary.

You do not have to pay a fee to enter the museum.

Prohibition

In negative statements of prohibition, use should and must with not and the base form of the verb.

You should not open the oven while the cake is baking.

You must not drink alcohol.
